Vance agreed with Ball that he would be reluctant to have "it" come up in the Cabinet meeting but thought Ball should take it up afterwards with the President.

Ball said he had looked at this last telegram from Taylor and thinks there are a lot of problems to be sorted out. Ball thinks we should go back to Taylor for a clearer recommendation in the light of the Chiefs reaffirmation. Vance suggested that Ball do this.

Vance said that he and McNamara reluctantly say, "Let's do the two batallion landing teams," but it would be helpful to have Taylors reconfirmation.
